Wick dump pegged for cleanup

By FLORENCE MEEKS
ANP Staff Writer

While officials of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources continue to seek those responsible for a contaminated landfill near Wick Elementary School, cleanup plans for the site have been put into action.

June 15 is the target date to begin removal of 367 barrels of toxic waste from the 30-acre site between Wayne and Ecorse roads. The Grand Rapids firm, Maecorp, will be responsible for the cleanup, once health and safety plans are submitted to the DNR.

Removal of the toxic waste alone will cost an estimated $67,000. Additional costs may be incurred once work begins, according to officials.

As one of the parties responsible for the condition of the site, the city of Romulus may receive a bill for the cleanup. The city owns a portion of the land.

Officials of the DNR notified Mayor Beverly McAnally that the cleanup was slated to begin, and that costs of the project would be recovered.

The state is required to recover all public funding allocated to the cleanup because of Public Act 307 of the Michigan Environmental Response Act, according to David Rymph, environmental quality manager of the DNR Northville district.

The mayor claims the city is not responsible for the condition of the site, but said she would like to see it cleaned up.

"I don't want to give anybody the impression we're singling Romulus out," Rymph said. "Romulus is only one of several potentially responsible parties. We're continuing the investigation."

For now, however, DNR officials are more concerned with removing the toxic material than pointing fingers.

"Our main intention is to remove the hazardous material from the drums... We'll sort out the cost recovery later," Rymph said.

Romulus teachers protest layoffs and program cuts

By FLORENCE MEEKS
ANP Staff Writer

Approximately 50 Romulus teachers carrying black balloons protested in front of the school administration building Monday, prior to the board of education meeting.

The teachers staged the demonstrations in order to show their concerns about teacher layoff and cutbacks in the district.

During the meeting, demonstrators presented a black wreath to members of the board.

Most of the protesting teachers are members of the Romulus Education Association.

"We are protesting the recent actions of our school board," spokeswoman Kathy Abdo said.

The teachers, Abdo said, are discouraged because they were told the recently approved millage transfer would help solve the financial problems of the district. The teachers, Abdo said, worked hard to promote the millage issue, and now they are seeing no benefits for their work.

After the layoff of 94 teachers, plans to shutdown the Hayti and Beacon schools, and the eliminate of several high school honors and vocational classes, the teachers feel they were misled.

"Something is wrong in this district," Abdo said.

Another major concern is the fact teachers are operating without a contract. Union leaders are now attempting to negotiate a three-year contract.

During the protest, Kris Powers, president of the Romulus teachers' union, said the black balloons are meant to send a message to the public.

"The black signifies education is basically dying in this community," she said. "I think we need the community to take a hard and fast look at what's going on in this district."

Romulus has the highest millage rate in the state, Powers said. But next year teachers anticipate classrooms filled with at least 35 students each.

"We're talking no room to walk, let alone teach these kids," Abdo said.

Teacher Ken Horn said he does not believe lack of funding is the problem in Romulus. He pointed to a list of figures recently printed in the Detroit Free Press. The list indicates Romulus Community Schools has $4,933 to spend per pupil. It stated Wayne/Westland Schools have $4,373, Van Buren Schools have $3,200 and Plymouth/Canton Schools have $3,523.

"It doesn't make sense," Horn said. "It's not a question of money; it's the way the money is used."

"I can understand how they feel about the layoffs," said Terrel LeCesne, assistant su-

Wounded officer accepts settlement

By FLORENCE MEEKS
ANP Staff Writer

A $36,000 out-of-court settlement has ended the lawsuit filed by an off-duty Pontiac police officer accidentally shot by a Romulus police officer in 1986.

The suit was dismissed in March when the plaintiff, Richard Nichols, accepted the settlement of $36,000 from the city. The settlement left both parties involved "somewhat satisfied."

"They felt they paid too much, and we felt we didn't get enough," explained Nichols' attorney, Douglas Chartrand.

The lawsuit stemmed from an incident in February, 1986 when two Romulus police officers, Dennis Burgor and David Denno, were pursuing a speeding GMC Jimmy on westbound I-94 to northbound I-275.

The Jimmy was pulled over, and Denno approached the driver, Nichols. While they were talking, Denno's service revolver accidentally misfired into the ground. Burgor, who had been with the department six months at the time, heard the gunshot and assumed his co-worker was in danger. He fired two shots into the vehicle, injuring Nichols, according to police reports of the incident.

In April of that year, Nichols, a former Romulus police officer, filed a lawsuit against the Romulus Police Department. He claimed his injuries stemmed from negligence and recklessness on the part of the Romulus officers.

Nichols sought approximately $1 million in damages for injuries, pain and suffering.

Shortly after filing the suit, Nichols was dismissed from the Pontiac Police Department. He refused to discuss the basis of his dismissal. Today, Nichols is employed but not as a police officer. He is fully recovered from his injuries.

Burgor and Denno are no longer employed with the Romulus Police Department.

City offers many summer activities

An assortment of exercise and dance programs will be available this spring and summer through the Romulus Recreation Department.

Basic dance classes will begin the first week of July and will be taught at the recreation center on Bibbins. Specific class schedules will be available in June.

Participants in the summer gymnastics program will meet on Thursdays at the recreation building. The eight-week session will begin June 20. The class schedule includes:

- 6 to 7 p.m.: Preschoolers will meet (3- to 5-year-olds).
- 7 to 8 p.m.: Beginners will meet.
- 8 to 9 p.m.: Intermediate students will meet.

The registration fee is $15. No refunds will be given after the third week of class.

Next, a karate class will begin June 16 and continue through Aug. 18. Classes will meet from 6 to 8 p.m., and the cost is $20. Class size is limited to 30 people.

Teens and adults can participate in the upcoming stretch and tone class. The six-week program will be conducted on Tuesdays and Thursdays beginning June 27. Classes will meet from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. and will be staged at the recreation building. Registration is $15 per person.

For softball fans, openings remain for the summer youth softball league. Age groups include 7- to 10 year olds, 11- to 13-year-olds and 14- to 17-year-olds. The cost is $20 per player or $30 per family.

In addition, coaches are needed for the softball program. The volunteer position would involve several hours per week. For more information about coaching or any of the above programs call 942-6852.

A parade!

The Romulus festival started off with a bang — and a parade — Friday. Romulus residents gathered downtown to watch the festival parade. Marchers included high school band members, public safety officials, mounted sheriff's officers and former prisoners of war. One of the star attractions, Megan Wilson (left), 1989 Little Miss Rainbow, waved to everybody from her float. Although the parade was a hit, it was a bit too loud for spectator James Johnson (above), 2, of Romulus. Johnson watched with his aunt, Linda Kuderik. Turn to page A-3 for more festival photos.

Police sponsor
golf outing

To benefit the Mayor's Task Force on Substance Abuse Prevention, the Romulus Police Command Officer's Association will host the Second Annual Golf Outing at 8 a.m. June 9 at the Shady Hollow golf course on Wayne Road.

Money collected from the golf outing will go toward summer youth education programs to prevent substance abuse.

Participants will play two-man-per-team scramble. Both team members will play; the lowest score per hole will count.

The $30 fee includes 18 holes of golf with a cart, lunch and the chance to win prizes. The prizes have been donated from local businesses.

For ticket information, call Lt. Robert Brown between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. at 941-8400.

Arson suspect faces hearing

A 14-year-old charged with arson in connection with two fires at Romulus Senior High School has been scheduled for a disposition hearing Aug. 2.

The youth is currently in the custody of his parents.

During a preliminary hearing earlier this month, the youth pleaded guilty to charges of arson and breaking and entering.

Police officials believe the youth will be sentenced during the disposition hearing.

The April 25 fire at the school left $100,000 in damages.

24 staffers are cut from schools

The layoff of 24 Romulus paraprofessionals was approved Monday by members of the board of education.

Three reasons cited for the layoffs were: anticipated cuts in state and federal aid, a projected deficit at the end of this school year, and the relocation of the Beacon Day Treatment Center.

Most of the paraprofessionals are from the Beacon program, which services emotionally disturbed students from 24 area communities. The program is currently housed in the South Junior High School building, but it will be relocated for the 1989-90 school year. School administrators announced the relocation earlier this month after failed attempts to negotiate a contract with the Wayne County Intermediate District which would alleviate Romulus from liability and repair costs for the facility.

"Those who want to go back to the program will probably be called back," said Joel Carr, assistant superintendent for finance and operations.

Man robbed
behind local bank

A Romulus man was the victim of an armed robbery Friday morning in the parking lot of a local bank on the 31000 block of Ecorse, according to police reports.

While walking to his car, the man was approached from behind and felt a sharp instrument pressed against his back. The man holding the instrument demanded a wallet, the victim told police.

At first, the man thought he was the victim of a practical joke, police officials said. When the culprit pressed the instrument harder, however, he handed over his money and a wrist watch. The culprit then fled in a late model Cougar with a white top and blue bottom.

Repairs planned for local roads

City officials Monday night agreed to accept bids for asphalt slurry seal repairs, a minor repair process, for several Romulus roads.

A slurry seal surface consists of emulsified asphalt, minerals and water. It is meant to fill all cracks in the road and be skid resistant.

Romulus roads with sections slated for repair include Wahrman, Grover, Whitehorn, Delano, Moore, DeWilde, Park Place, Hunt and Vinewood.

Romulus festival is declared a success

By FLORENCE MECKS
ANP Staff Writer

Nothing could rain on Romulus residents' parade last weekend. Despite a few clouds and sprinkles, the seventh annual Romulus Festival has been declared a success.

There were no reports of problems or calls for police assistance throughout the three-day event, and everyone seemed to enjoy themselves, said festival planner Gayle Mach.

"The parade went fine," she said. "The rain stopped just in time."

"I don't know of any entity that wasn't satisfied," Mach said.

Additional highlights included the 10-kilometer run, which attracted 136 participants this year.

"We were glad it didn't rain," said Nina Derda, race coordinator. "We had a nice turnout...I would say it went great."

Overall race winners were Bill Morgan, of Royal Oak, and Karen Zimmerman, of Allen Park, the top Romulus runners were Dennis Tessin and Karole Barton. For the corporate teams, Parke-Davis I took first place. The open team winner was the War Eagles.

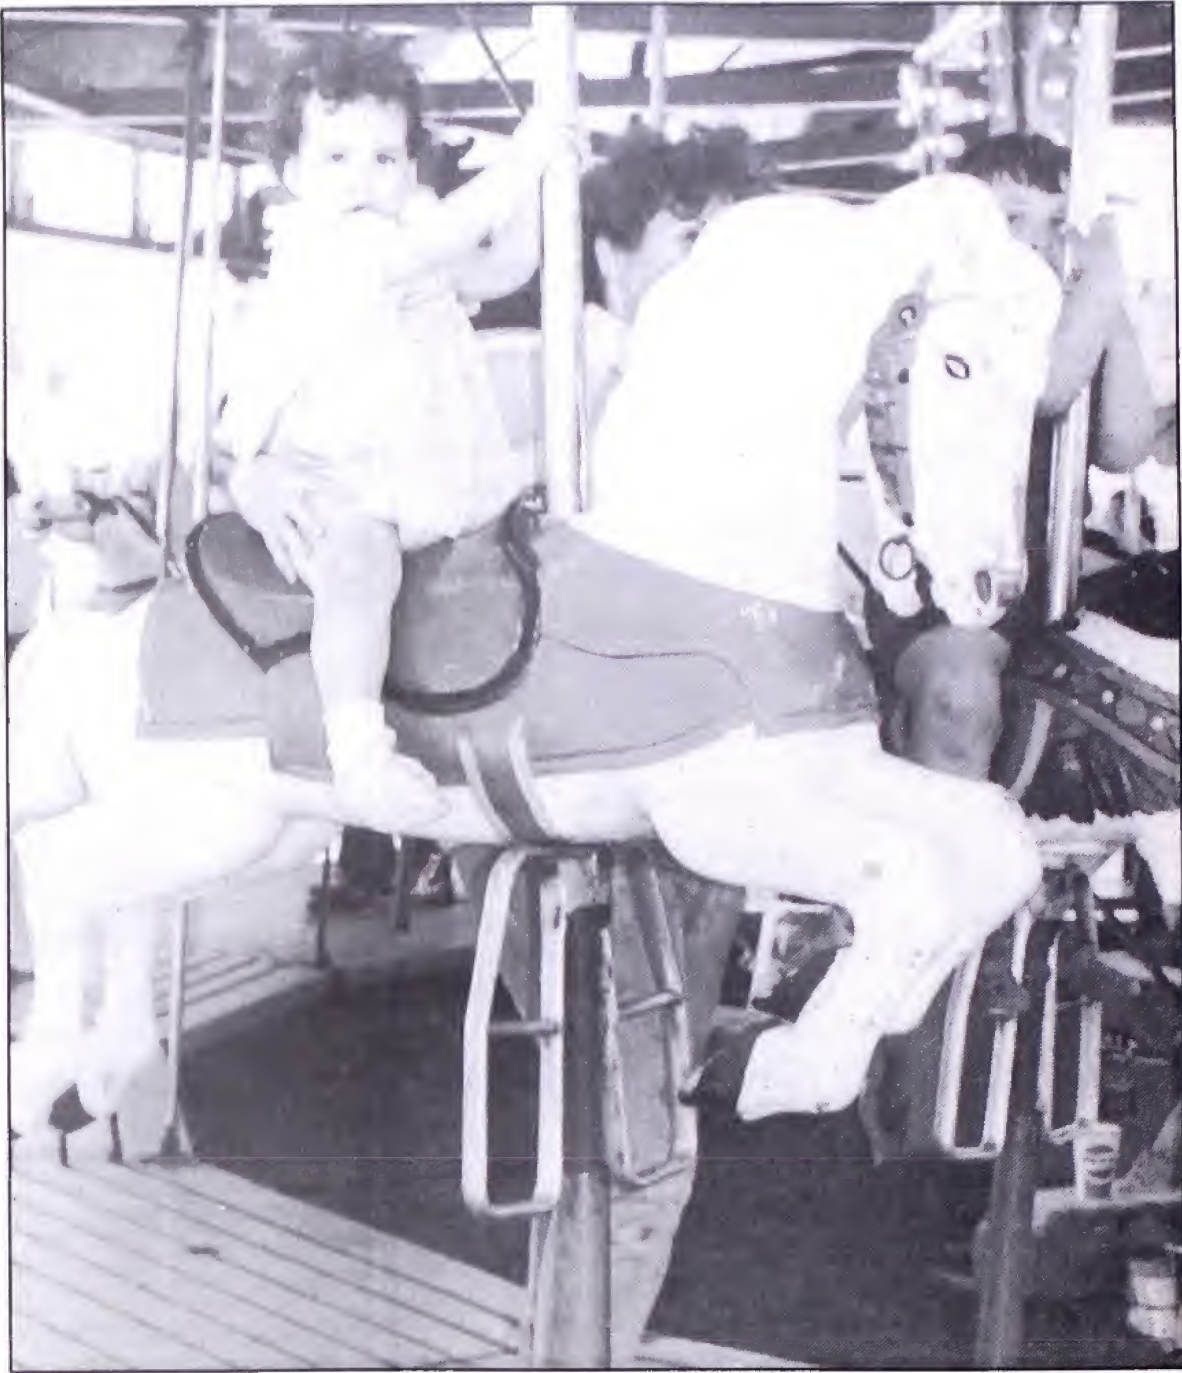

More than 30 people walked or ran through the new One-Mile Fun Run. Many of the participants were members of a walking club, the Romulus Rovers. "That was good for the first year. It means people are interested in getting out there and walking," Derda said.

Mach was also proud of the festival art display.

"It was the biggest arts and crafts display we ever had," she said.

The festival is finished now, and planners are lowering their adrenaline levels.

"So, now we start the cleanup and the fixup and send out the thank you letters," Mach said.

The weekend was packed with activities for Romulus residents as the annual festival came to town. The classic merry-go-round at the carnival was a hit with Romulus resident, Savanna Watts (top, right). The 10-kilometer run staged Saturday morning featured a category for the wheelchair-bound. Jimbo Boyd (bottom, right), of Farmington Hills, and George Lindermann, of Inkster, were among the participants. At the annual pancake feast, Jim Conway (bottom, left) and Tom Jamack of the Romulus Kiwanis Club served up flapjacks. Formal dedication ceremonies for the Romulus Memorial Cemetery were also featured (top, left).

Second cable channel planned

A second local access cable channel for Romulus may be in operation by late summer, if the hopes of cable commission members are realized.

Currently, commission members are obtaining equipment for the upcoming community access channel, 43. A special meeting is expected Tuesday evening to discuss the progress of the project.

As a community access channel, 43 will be open to local groups or residents. Already, representatives from local churches, and the Romulus

Historical Society have expressed interest in programming, according to commission chairperson Ray Williams.

"There's all kinds of stuff floating around," he said. The existing channel, 40, was recently designated a city government channel. It provides notices from city officials, school, and various city departments including police and fire.

Members of the cable commission, along with city councilmembers, have denied church groups use of channel 40 to maintain a separation between church and state. The second channel should prevent such conflicts, Williams said.

Another project for the cable commission is a possible cable hookup within city hall. Pre-wiring would allow future projects such as airing the inauguration of newly-elected city officials this fall.

The hookups would not be used to air city council meetings, Williams stressed. If such a project was instigated, it would be based on the decision of city councilmembers, he said.

Romulus will be shown off during mayor's exchange

By FLORENCE MECKS
ANP Staff Writer

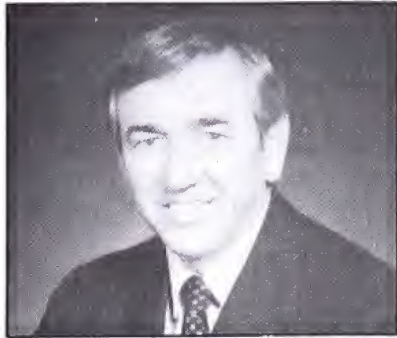

There will be a brand new face in the mayor's office in Dearborn Heights today, and Romulus workers will be addressing a very different "your honor" tomorrow.

Mayor Beverly McAnally of Romulus and Mayor Lyle Van Houten of Dearborn Heights will be participating in Mayor's Exchange Day this week as part of the annual Michigan Week celebration.

McAnally will spend the day in Dearborn Heights today. City officials have prepared a lengthy schedule of events for her visit.

At 9:30 a.m., McAnally will arrive at Dearborn Heights City Hall. After a brief ceremony and reception, she will tour the local police and fire departments.

Then, McAnally's tour of the Dearborn Heights area will begin with a visit to Farmer Jack's Supermarket, reportedly the largest Farmer Jack's store in the state. Her next stop will be the community senior citizen center.

"We have some excellent senior programming," boasted Brian Hitski, Van Houten's assistant.

After a break for lunch, McAnally will be provided with a tour of the Central Wayne County Sanitation Authority Incinerator, the only operating incinerator in the county.

To discuss the events of the day, McAnally and Van Houten will participate in a press conference at the local cable station toward the end of the day. An evening reception will wrap up the event.

"Everybody does things a little differently," said Hitski. "The whole purpose of our tour is to exchange ideas between the two mayors."

Unlike Romulus, Dearborn Heights is mainly a residential community. The city is known for its numerous public parks, Hitski said.

"Mayor Van Houten feels Dearborn Heights has very interesting things to show people," he added.

McAnally agreed the exchange can prove interesting for both participants.

"It gives you an opportunity to see how people with basically the same job do things a little differently, a little better or a little worse," she said.

When Van Houten comes to Romulus Friday, he is also in for a full schedule of activities. He will be greeted by city officials at 9 a.m. at the newly completed Radisson Hotel. Shortly after, he will meet members of the Romulus Chamber of Commerce at the Holiday Inn and receive a key to the city.

Robbery suspect arrested

Approximately one year after an armed robbery was reported in Romulus, a suspect in the case has been arrested and extradited from Florida.

Earl Levi Dixon Jr., 33, has been charged with armed robbery and felony firearm. He was arraigned in the 34th District Court, in Romulus, May 17 before Judge Henry Zaborowski.

Dixon pleaded not guilty. Bond was set at $200,000. A preliminary examination is set for May 24.

The crime allegedly occurred April 10, 1988 at a business on the 36000 block of Northline when a company pickup truck was stolen from a security guard, police officials said.

The truck was recovered in Florida April 19, 1989.

An investigation led Florida police officers to Dixon. He was arrested on a Romulus warrant for armed robbery.

Dixon refused to waive extradition, and was picked up by a Romulus police official May 17.

perintendent. "We're all distressed about that."

Dr. William Bedell, superintendent, said union representatives approved the layoff of teachers to provide funding for raises. Most teachers are not aware of that, he said.

"Their union is fibbing to them," Bedell said. "The offer we have made to them is all the money we have," he added. "We're doing everything we can."

Nearly 30 of the 94 teachers on layoffs have been recalled, according to LeCesne, and more than half of the teachers who remain on layoff are part of the Beacon Day Treatment Center. The Beacon center will be taken over by the county next year.

As for the teacher's concerns about a contract, LeCesne said he is less sympathetic in that area.

CITY OF ROMULUS

APPENDIX A - ZONING

AMENDMENT 1.99

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF ROMULUS, PROVIDING THAT THE CODE OF ORDINANCES, CITY OF ROMULUS BE AMENDED BY ADDING AN ARTICLE TO BE NUMBERED X11A, PROVIDING FOR OFFICE RESEARCH DISTRICT (OR). The City of Romulus Ordains:

SECTION 1: Short Title: Amended Zoning Ordinance.

SECTION 2: That the Code of Ordinances of the City of Romulus be amended by adding an Article to be amended by adding an Article to be numbered X11A, consisting of Sections to be numbered 12A.01, to read as follows:

SECTION 12A.01. INTENT

The O-R Office Research District is designed to primarily accommodate office, scientific, business, technological research operations, related testing operations, and other related uses where office, technology and scientific research activities are mutually dependent or developmental in nature; in a spacious, open type environment devoid of nuisance factors commonly present in nonresidential districts; and to permit uses which support and complement permitted principal uses enumerated in this district, or which are vital to such principal uses and required to be located close to them; and the result shall be development planned in a coordinated manner, according to an approved site plan. It is further the intent of this district to contain all activities within an enclosed building with only extremely limited outdoor activities, or accessory buildings allowed.

SECTION 12A.02. PERMITTED USES

All uses permitted in this district shall be constructed and conducted wholly within a building in accordance with the standards of this Article and limited to those listed on the approved site plan, and no other uses shall be permitted unless the appropriate plans are amended in accordance with this Ordinance.

A. Corporate headquarter offices, administrative, professional, and/or business offices of permitted principal uses, legal, engineering, surveying, accounting, architectural, and similar professional offices.

B. Research, development, and testing facilities for technological, scientific and business establishments, including the development of prototypes.

C. Educational and design facilities whose principal function is the research and development of new products and processes and technical training.

D. Technological, medical and dental clinics; medical, optical, pharmaceutical and dental laboratories.

E. Data processing and computer centers, including incidental service and maintenance of electronic data processing.

SECTION 12A.03. PERMITTED USES AFTER SPECIAL APPROVAL

The following uses may be permitted subject to the conditions hereinafter imposed and subject further to the special approval procedures of Article XXVII of this Ordinance and the following:

A. Utility and public service facilities and uses needed to service the immediate vicinity, but excluding any outside storage.

B. The development of professional, scientific instruments, electrical or electronic prototypes which meet the performance standards of this Ordinance.

C. Specialized or customized photographic or graphic design services.

D. Limited retail services customarily incidental to the principal uses permitted in Section 12A.02.

1. The retail sales area shall be designed primarily to meet the needs of the personnel in his office-research complex or development.

2. The display of available products shall not be visible from outside the building.

3. All such uses shall be located in the building containing the permitted principal uses which will be served.

E. Wholesale display sales area.

F. Planned Office Research Parks, subject to the following:

1. All Planned Office Research Parks shall have a minimum site size of ten (10) acres.
 2. In order to achieve innovative design, the Planning Commission may modify specific height or placement standards in conjunction with an approved development plan for the site. Whenever a specific standard is varied, the extent of the change and the basis for it shall be documented as part of the approval.
- G. Trade or technical schools.
- SECTION 12A.04. ACCESSORY USES PERMITTED
- A. Parking garages which are designed as an integral part of the principal use or for the use of the employed and clients of the principal use.
- B. Accessory buildings and uses customarily incidental to the principal permitted uses in this district are permitted. Accessory uses, other than parking and trash receptacles, shall be contained within an enclosed structure.
- SECTION 12A.05 AREA, HEIGHT AND BULK REQUIREMENTS
- A. The minimum size of each lot per buildings.
1. Area: 40,000 square feet.
 2. Width: 150 feet
- B. Maximum height of any structure.
1. In stories: 2
 2. In feet: 30 (Building height may exceed thirty (30) feet provided that the rear yard or side setbacks abutting a residential zoning districts are increased two (2) feet for each one (1) additional foot of building height.)
- For development of more than one building, height limit zones shall be delineated on site plan. The zones shall be based on considerations of architectural character, natural light, air circulation, views, solar access, relation to neighboring buildings, and fire protection and safety. The proposed height of each building shall be shown on the site plan.
- C. Minimum building floor area
- Area: 5,000 square feet.
- D. Minimum yard setback per lot.
1. Feet and street-side setbacks: No building shall be located less than seventy five (75) feet from any front property line. In the case of private roads, the 75 foot front yard setback shall be measured from the road easement or common usage line abutting the subject lot. The required front yard shall be landscaped and maintained thereafter in a neat and orderly condition. Parking shall not be permitted in the required front yard.
 2. Side: Twenty-five (25) feet one side/one hundred (100) feet total. No building shall be located closer than seventy-five (75) feet to the outer perimeter (property line) of such district when such property line abuts any residential zoned district.
 3. Rear: 75 feet. No building shall be located closer than one hundred (100) feet to the outer perimeter (property line) of this district when such property line abuts any residential district.
- E. Maximum Lot Coverage.
- The maximum lot coverage shall be governed by meeting all requirements for yard space, landscaping, screening off-street parking and loading. The location of buildings and uses and distances between buildings shall be as shown on the site plan. Distances between buildings shall be sufficient to meet fire regulations and to provide for natural light, air circulation, and solar access.
- SECTION 12A.06. STRUCTURE AND SITE REQUIREMENTS
- A. The exterior of all buildings hereafter erected shall be constructed of brick and/or stone building materials or other similar durable, decorative building materials as may be approved by the Planning Commission. The architecture and exterior finish of any building shall be complementary and compatible in style and be of uniform finish on all sides of its exterior.

- B. Portions of the site not used for parking, driveway, and buildings shall be provided with a lawn or landscaping (see Section 4.33) approved by the Planning Commission and so maintained in an attractive condition. Parking lots shall be landscaped so as to reduce heat and glare, to divide parking lots into smaller units, and to buffer adjacent areas, where necessary. All plantings shall be live and shall be properly and regularly maintained. Dead or dying material shall be replaced in accordance with approved plans.
- C. Outdoors storage of vehicles, equipment, supplies, or products; outdoors processing, repair, or other operations; or outdoor display of goods, materials, products, equipment, or processes is prohibited. No display shall be permitted in a window or in any other location visible from a street or an adjacent lot. Trash and other waste materials shall be stored within a principal or accessory building or shall be totally screened from view from a street and adjacent lot, and shall not be located in a required yard. Utility meters and control devices shall also be so located and screened.
- D. Loading and unloading areas, as specified in Section 6.07, are not required in the O-R Office Research District. Loading areas shall be confined to rear yard or interior court areas with all such activities screened from view off-site. Exterior loading docks are not permitted except in an interior court.
- E. Roof mounted appliances and fixtures shall be effectively screened on all sides by an approved architectural detail so as not to be visible from off the site.
- SECTION 12A.07. PERFORMANCE STANDARDS AND REGULATIONS OF USES
- It is the intent of this section to require that each permitted use shall be a good neighbor to adjoining properties by control of noise, odor, glare, vibration, smoke, dust, liquid wastes, radiation, radioactivity, etc. The performance standards set forth in Section 17.06 shall be complied with, and any use which fails to comply with the standards shall be in violation of this Ordinance and be subject to penalties as accorded by law.
- SECTION 3: PENALTY
- Any person violating, or neglecting or refusing to comply with any of the provisions of this Ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by imposition of a fine not to exceed Five hundred ($500.00) dollars, or by imprisonment for a period not to exceed ninety (90) days, or by imposition of both fine and imprisonment within the discretion of the court. Each day that a violation is permitted to exist shall constitute a separate offense.
- SECTION 4: SEVERABILITY
- Should any section, subdivision, clause, or phase of this ordinance be declared by the courts to be invalid, the same shall not affect the validity of the ordinance as a whole, or any part thereof, other than the part so invalidated.
- SECTION 5: EFFECTIVE DATE
- The provisions of this ordinance are hereby ordered to take effect immediately upon publication in the manner prescribed by law.
- I, Linda R. Choate, CMC, Clerk for the City of Romulus, Michigan,, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of an Ordinance adopted at the regular meeting of the Romulus City Council held on the 24th day of April, 1989.

Computer camp is offered

A computer camp for students in grades three through eight will be available beginning June 3.

The camp is sponsored by the Information Center of Domino's Pizza Inc., in conjunction with the University of Toledo.

The camp, staged at Domino's Farms, in Ann Arbor, is designed to aid in children's computer awareness and enrich overall development. Computer skill games, pizza making, and tours of Domino's Classic Cars and the petting farm are included in the camp.

Six camp sessions will be offered during the 1989 year—June 3, July 8, Aug. 5, Sept. 9, Oct. 14, and Nov. 4. Each session will meet three consecutive Saturdays.

For more information, call Martha Walbridge at 930-3529.

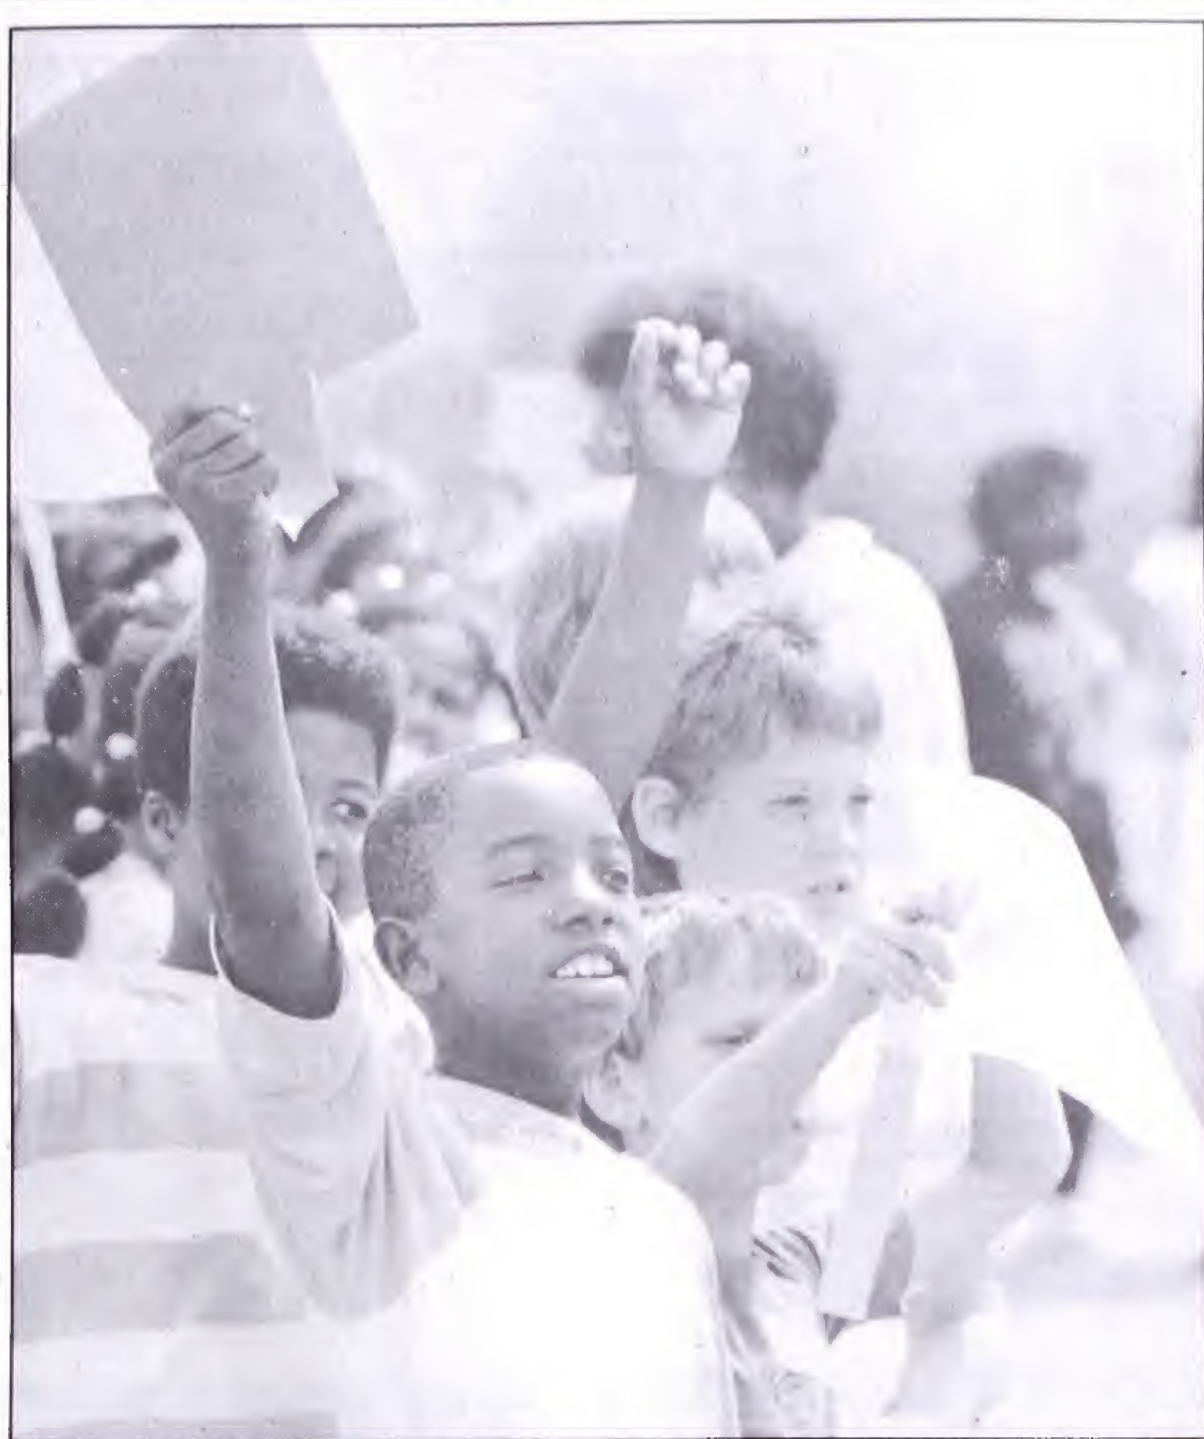

Scholarships for teachers

The Wayne County Soil and Water Conservation District is offering scholarships to teachers interested in studying environmental education.

The scholarships are for four different courses being offered this summer at the Higgins Lake Teachers' Environmental School.

Applications may be obtained from the district office, 5454 Venoy Road, in Wayne. For more information, call 326-7787.

A warm welcome

Hayti elementary students received a warm welcome May 18 from their new classmates at Cory. Some Hayti students will be transferred to Cory when their school closes this spring. The Hayti students were greeted at a "get-acquainted" gathering by lines of Cory students bearing posters and signs. The school band played as the students left the bus. NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON INCREASING PROPERTY TAXES FOR THE PURPOSE OF RUBBISH AND GARBAGE DISPOSAL AND CITY OPERATIONS

The Romulus City Council of the City of Romulus, will hold a public hearing on proposed increase of 0.5757 mills in the operating and sanitation tax millage rate to be levied in 1989.

The hearing will be held on Monday, June 5, 1989 at 7:00 p.m. at Romulus City Council Chambers, 11111 Wayne Road, Romulus, MI 48174.

If adopted, the proposed additional millage will increase operating revenues from ad valorem property taxes 5.91% over such revenue generated by levies permitted without holding a hearing.

The proposed millage rate shall not have the effect of increasing the 1989 millage rate over that which was levied for the 1988 tax year.

The taxing unit publishing this notice, and identified below, has complete and legal authority to establish the number of mills to be levied from within its authorized millage rate.

Crime: Increasing numbers bring problem to suburbs

By BARBARA WILSON
ANP News Editor

RELATED STORY, A-9

Reading the newspaper and watching the news on television can be a frightening experience — as news of murders, rapes, drug dealing and other crimes enter the once quiet and uneventful suburbs.

Increasing crime rates in Detroit prompted families to move to the quieter setting of suburbia. But those same families are now finding themselves with no place else to run.

Local public-safety officials are noticing a slight decrease — or, at least, a leveling off — of crime in area communities. But they are not prepared to accept the slight decline as a trend.

Statistics, Westland Police Executive Lt. Michael Frayer said, are sometimes deceiving. They can be interpreted in several ways, resulting in a sometimes unclear picture of crime.

What can be considered when looking at crime in western Wayne County is that the source of crime and, perhaps, what might be considered the reasons for crime are evident.

"As the population and the business community in the suburbs continue to grow, there will continue to be more and more crime," Frayer said.

Shopping malls and multiple-unit housing complexes attract criminals. The proximity to I-275 makes the communities of western Wayne County even more attractive, Frayer said.

"The criminals see an easy getaway. They can commit their crime and within minutes be out of the city," Frayer said.

In addition, there seems to be little change with society itself. Young people are still afraid to be different from peers. Both parents work, and children return home to empty houses. The loss of the nuclear family, Frayer surmised, is helping to breed young criminals.

Nevertheless, the root of all crime, police officials agree, is drugs.

"Seventy-five percent of all our property crimes (in Westland) are drug-related," Frayer said. "They need money for drugs, and they know they can hold up the nearest stop-and-rob and then go buy more drugs."

A combination of strong community-educational programs, mixed with a strong governmental restraint on the illegal drug-trade, are necessary to make even a dent in what has become a profitable industry, Frayer believes.

The dangerous drugs which many suburbanites fooled themselves into believing were not in their back yard, are there, Frayer said. Cocaine, crack and other potent, illegal drugs are being sold in every city in western Wayne County.

The selling won't stop, Frayer said, until the buyers stop buying.

"We need our educational programs to start earlier and not only 'the drugs are bad' routine," Frayer said. "Young people and the educational system have to accommodate different types of students and make them feel as if they belong."

As an active Boy Scout leader in the city of Westland, Frayer works with many young people and tries to instill in them the leadership abilities

A look at local crime statistics

Public safety officials each year compile crime statistics and compare figures to previous years to find trends in the local crime scene.

Monthly figures are sent to the Michigan State Police and are compiled there. An annual report is then issued.

What follows are crime statistics for each community served by the Associated Newspapers. Listed are the most serious crimes — Class I offenses — as ranked by state police officials.

City of Inkster officials do not compile crime numbers. Thus, Inkster is not included in this chart.

which will make them strong in the battles they will face.

Stronger enforcement in the suburbs and in the city are also necessary, Frayer said. Concentrating on the street-level drug buyer will limit the market for the drugs, he believes.

Auto theft has become a critical concern for law-enforcement officials in western Wayne County. So much so that the communities have united to form an areawide task force.

The area proximity to I-275, again, makes the communities of western Wayne County attractive to car thieves, Frayer said. Large shopping mall parking lots and apartments-complex parking lots are all considered "a grocery store" for car thieves.

The cars are usually torn apart, and the parts are sold off.

"There are people out there who will buy parts if they are cheap, with little thought of whether or not they are stolen," Frayer said. "As long as there are buyers, there will be sellers."

New on-board computers in Westland police cars are proving to be successful in uncovering stolen vehicles in a community, Frayer said. The computers allow an officer to receive information about a license plate while the officer is in the car. The same information was once only available by calling on police radio.

Dearborn Heights officials installed the computers in the cars last year. They believe the devices have been instrumental in recovering stolen vehicles, Frayer said.

Westland police officers will be equipped with the computers this year.

"The officers end up playing around with them, and they call up license numbers just as they drive through the neighborhoods," Frayer said. "Otherwise, they would have to call on the radio and wait for clear air."

Nevertheless, the computers are only a part of the solution to the area crime problem. Residents are the key ingredient, Frayer said.

Asbestos removal set to begin in schools

By JOAN MARY DYER
Belleville City Editor

After completing months of study on asbestos hazards in the district schools and delivering 13 bulging books of data to Lansing last week, the work of Ed Randolph, manager of planning operations and maintenance for the Van Buren Public Schools is not over.

Randolph and administrators from all area school districts, where asbestos has been identified as a hazard, must continue to monitor the affected areas and oversee the safe removal of the substance from ceilings, floors, pipes, doors and other objects throughout the schools.

At the same time, he and other administrators must deal with two diverse public reactions—those who are extremely fearful of the potential hazard and those who discount the need for the federally-mandated asbestos removal.

"How I feel, or how any school administrator feels, it is mandated by law, and we have no choice, but to comply," Randolph said. "Personally, I feel it is something to be concerned about, but not to panic about."

School officials must oversee the proper removal, containment or management of the asbestos, so that "short-term solutions of immediate removal of asbestos do not create even greater dangers for the children in our schools," reported a New Jersey state publication.

"It is well documented that the improper removal of asbestos can be far more hazardous than if the asbestos is not removed at all," the report said, noting that some activities that disturb asbestos can cause high fiber release and consequent human exposure—sometimes causing airborne asbestos levels in buildings to be higher after removal than before.

Therefore care must be taken to choose a competent firm to perform the asbestos removal, and monitor the job to make sure it is performed properly.

The danger of asbestos is compounded, Randolph said, by its versatility and extensive use—often required in building codes—since World War II. In the past, asbestos materials were used to cover structural steel, furnaces and boilers as fire protection and used in classrooms and hallways for sound control. Asbestos was used in pipes and boilers for safety and energy conservation, in tile and flooring because of its cleanability and in auditorium curtains and other textiles as a fire protection.

During the period immediately following World War II to the early 1970s, asbestos-containing products were most widely used in school construction. These projects were used to ensure safety and often were mandated by building codes and municipal regulations.

Asbestos, once called "the magic mineral," was discovered to have potentially harmful effects on people exposed to the airborne fibers. The health risks associated with exposure to asbestos-laden dust include, asbestosis, lung cancer and colon cancer. Studies indicate problems associated with heavy exposure to the asbestos could surface decades after the initial exposure.

Materials which release fibers in large quantities have caused the greatest concern among health officials. Dry-applied materials are not as well-bonded into other materials, and, as a result, they can have a higher potential for fiber release when disturbed. However, even such potentially friable (easily crumbled) materials will not normally release fibers in significant numbers if they are undamaged, well-maintained or wrapped in protective coverings.

Home loans made easier

By DANIEL CALABRESE
ANP Staff Writer

Securing a federally insured home loan may be made easier with new guidelines proposed for officials of the housing industry and the federal government.

Representatives of the Housing Industry Forum and the Detroit office of the Federal Housing Administration have agreed to changes in the current system which would eliminate certain regulations and, they expect, speed the process of home loan underwriting for first-time home buyers.

Don Maiolatesi, president of the Mortgage Bankers Association of Michigan, representatives of HIF met with Detroit FHA officials to outline the changes.

Individuals buying homes with FHA-insured loans typically need one-third of the cash required to obtain other types of loans. Increased FHA loan availability is expected to increase potential buyers by 25 to 30 percent.

The major change is a cut-back in the number of items on federal appraisers' checklists.

"We started going after the appraisal process, and found we had a more detailed regimen (than needed)," he said.

Appraisers' checklists, which they use when inspecting a home, have been cut back from four pages to a page-and-a-half, he said, without compromising health and safety.

Officials expect the move to work well with the national direct endorsement program, which allows lenders to handle their own underwriting process. Before that process was initiated nationally in 1984, FHA handled the underwriting as a middle man, creating more delays.

Metropolitan Detroit has the second-lowest rate of FHA-insured loans among major U.S. cities. That is largely due to past problems with the program, Sharott said.

Opinion

Go ahead — show us you mean it

The "try, try, try, try again" story on school-finance reform being written at the state Capitol is a classic tragedy that continues to harm our children and our future.

Perhaps, state lawmakers could finally heed the desperate plea from area educators and give serious consideration to school-finance reform before they recess for their summer vacation in early June. Even a temporary relief measure — such as earmarking a projected $360 million state budget-surplus to help many deficit-plagued school districts in the state — would be a welcomed sign that state lawmakers are ready to end political bickering and begin bipartisan support of our public education system.

School-finance reform has been masked in a political battle that is only adding fuel to the fire of the 1990 gubernatorial race.

Area educators are not joking when they detail the gloom and doom tales of financially insolvent school districts before the end of the next school year. Coincidence is no explanation for the fact that such a diverse group of individuals — from education, business and politics — is now backing one of the most prominent school-finance reform proposals, HJR 1.

Many local educators have — sadly — conceded that HJR 1 is the best package they are going to receive from Lansing. Desperation is evident when one considers that the proposal would generate only $400 million new dollars for education statewide.

Do remember, state lawmakers, that school districts the size of Wayne-Westland — with 17,489 pupils — need more than $70 million each year to operate. How much help will $400 million be for more than 500 school districts in the state of Michigan?

It is a sad sign of the times to hear:

"After all the proposals that have been run up the flagpole, this seems to be the only one that has legislative support. If not this, it may be nothing," explained Connie Brinkerhoff, Van Buren schools board of education vice president.

Then again, $400 million is a much more tangible way to help ease the financial burden of our schools than the lackluster promises state lawmakers have offered in the past.

HJR 1 or the Harden proposal — the plan most local school officials have openly supported — includes a 1 cent increase in the state sales tax and a property-tax exemption for the first $11,200 of a homeowners' property. School taxes on business personal property would also be reduced approximately 16 percent.

Engineered by former university professor Edgar Harden, the plan includes a sales-tax hike estimated to net the state approximately $800 million.

The plan has received mixed support in the state House of Representatives — the Republicans don't like it and neither does local Democrat Rep. James Kosteva (D-Canton Township). It has the backing of Gov. James Blanchard, but a Republican-controlled state Senate promises a challenge.

Two-thirds of both the House and the Senate must approve any school-finance reform measure which includes a sales-tax hike, because an amendment would be needed in the state Constitution. If approved by state lawmakers, such a proposal would also need approval from Michigan voters.

We share the belief that HJR 1 isn't the final solution to school-funding woes. Our biggest worry is that the bill fails to provide significant funding for all districts in the state.

On the other hand, the bill's competitor — HJR H, which calls for a 2 cent increase in sales tax and 37-percent residential property-tax cut — would also generate only $448 million new dollars for education. It, too, lacks any backbone in solving the problem of our financially troubled public schools.

In addition, supporters of both proposals have yet to convince us that their campaign will lure enough tax-hike-rejecting Michigan voters to their side.

State lawmakers will recess in early June. It is obvious that two or three weeks is hardly enough time to end a political battle that has been brewing for more than two years.

But let's see some temporary support. Prove to us, state lawmakers, that you are serious about school-finance reform. How about the expected $360 million extra dollars in the state budget this year to help ease the financial crunch for our schools?

Is it only ironic that the state budget has a surplus and the budgets of many of our local school districts are deficit-plagued?

The summer recess also is a perfect opportunity for state lawmakers to stage public forums in their home towns. Invite municipal officials, school officials, parents and students. A statewide educational forum now might help lessen the burden come tax-hike time.

We believe in school-finance reform. We have no magical answers nor have we seen such an answer be presented in Lansing.

But immediate temporary relief, real relief — actual financial aid — would convince us and educators across the state that our lawmakers have the same objectives in mind.

Editorial fails to hit the point

"Your editorial 'Justice for all includes judges' (May 4) prompts me to write.

When I filed my complaint with the Michigan Judicial Tenure Commission, I also sent you a copy of the complaint with its substantiating documentation.

Obviously, from your editorial, you missed the whole point of the complaint. The charge is not that the judge served on the Westland City Council but that many of the same school officials who supported her candidacy financially and manually were very much involved in this case and, in my opinion, might have been more deeply involved had it gone to trial.

Again, you miss the other points or try to obscure them to your public, regarding the intertwining of court employees and school officials and a spouse serving on a school board and living in another school district yet very involved in the politics of this school district.

In my opinion, any of these connections may constitute a possible conflict of interest. Together, they do! We all have heard of the old saying, "If there appears to be a conflict of interest, there is a conflict of interest."

Your editorial seems to indicate that the judge is unfair and subjective. That's much bolder than I would ever be. All that I have indicated is that she should have disqualified herself from a pretrial hearing resulting from indictments issued by a citizens' grand jury because of an apparent conflict of interest.

You forget that this is the United States of America, and one of the fundamental rights given its citizens under the Constitution and its laws is the guarantee of innocence until proven guilty by a jury of your peers.

You also forget that nobody is above the law — not the President, ask Richard Nixon, the Speaker of the House, ask Jim Wright, not the National Security Council, ask Ollie North. Nobody is above the law.

The laws of the people of the state of Michigan provide that a citizen may file a complaint against a judiciary member with the Michigan Judicial Tenure Commission. If there is no substance to the complaint, it will be dropped. However, if there is substance and an investigation by the commission concludes there is, then there would be a public hearing with the judge, represented by an attorney presenting her side of the case.

After the hearing, the commission can send the case to the Michigan Supreme Court, with a recommendation for punitive action. The Michigan Supreme Court listens to arguments from both sides and isn't bound by the recommendation of the commission.

This matter now rests in the hands of a jury of her peers, known as the Michigan Judicial Tenure Commission, to determine whether or not the judge should have disqualified herself from the case because of apparent conflicts of interest.

'Judge received a slap in face'

The recent attacks and accusations made upon Westland 18th District Court Judge Gail McKnight are both unfounded and unwarranted.

Certainly, anyone other than Judge McKnight would have already filed slander, malice and defamation of character charges against the parties making such heinous and insidious accusations. However, I imagine, as always, Judge McKnight is above that.

Gail McKnight is a fair, honest and above-reproach public servant, whose dedication, skill level and love of this community place her in the position of judge — a position worthy of her many strengths.

This community has benefited from her wisdom and good common-sense. Her decisions from the bench are fair and just and timely to the offense or lack of offense thereof.

She is creative, compassionate, compelling in upholding the law and seeing that fair treatment is upheld in her courtroom. She is to be trusted as a judge.

The charges brought forth a "a sham, a farce and a slap in the face" of a trusted public official, whose one objective is fairness and justice in our court system.

Condominiums are opposed

This is to inform you that we are extremely opposed to the rezoning of Cowan Road, in Westland, for condominiums. This rezoning would not benefit the city.

The only benefit would be to the builder's pocketbook. This is a residential and school setting — not the type of area condominiums belong. We already have a severe traffic problem on Cowan, due to all of the new stores and the opening of Farmington Road.

Besides, Westland already has more than 900 condominium units and more than 800 units being constructed. In short, this development is not in the best interest of this subdivision of this city.

Many of our neighbors share our viewpoint.

Fighting crime

'Citizen cops' still a good idea

By JOAN MARY DYER
Belleville City Editor

An ideal crime prevention tool would be "a cop on every corner," but, since that is not practical or possible, the best alternative is an active, neighborhood crime watch.

"By having a Neighborhood Crime Watch program, we can have ears and eyes throughout the area," said Van Buren Township Police Chief Joseph Davies. "We encourage the formation of watch programs and the involvement of citizens in keeping us informed about any suspicious or potentially dangerous situations."

Once the suspicious situation has been reported, citizens should leave the response to the trained officers, and not engage in personal action that will endanger them, their families or bystanders.

The concerned citizen has been called the criminal's worst enemy, the police chief said. Action by concerned citizens can break the "triangle of crime - opportunity, desire and victim." For example, Davies said, citizens can limit opportunity by making their homes and cars secure, and desire can be reduced by "not leaving property where it will tempt a criminal." Citizens can reduce their chances of being a victim by keeping their homes and cars secure, avoiding hitchhiking or picking up hitchhikers, and asking for identification from strangers who seek to enter their homes.

Often, Davies said, citizens are reluctant to "bother" police with information because they fear they may be "crying wolf."

"People should never be afraid to report a suspicious activity," Davies said. "I have a desk drawer filled with letters from residents thanking us for checking into reports made by their neighbors."

In one instance, a neighbor called police when he saw a

Know how to read crime stats

The average citizen looks at annual crime statistics as a grim reminder of "a society gone bad."

Safety officials look at the annual reports as a tool to enhance protection against crime.

Crime statistics compiled by the Michigan State Police for 1988 gave some community leaders a reason to smile and others a reason to pause and consider.

In Westland, serious crime numbers declined 12 percent in 1988, compared to 1987.

In Canton Township, a 12-percent decline was reported, as well.

"We use the statistics to allocate manpower throughout the city," said Executive Lt. Michael Frayer, of the Westland Police Department. "If we see an increase in crime in a certain area, we will redirect our attention there."

Climbing auto-theft statistics a few years ago led to the creation of an areawide task force assigned to investigate such crimes. The result has been fewer auto thefts in many communities, Frayer said.

The statistics compiled by the state police include cases which are solved and those which remain unsolved, the dollar amount of property lost and the total number of complaints which result in no actual crime report.

"A decreased crime-rate means we're doing our job," Frayer said.

The statistics, however, can be interpreted differently, depending on who is reading the statistics.

An increased rate in the area of rape, for example, could simply indicate that more people are reporting the crime.

man loading an appliance into a pick-up truck. Officers investigated and found that the man was a resident of the home who was taking his appliance out for repairs. Rather than being angry about being questioned by the officers, the homeowner wrote a thank-you letter to the Van Buren Police Department.

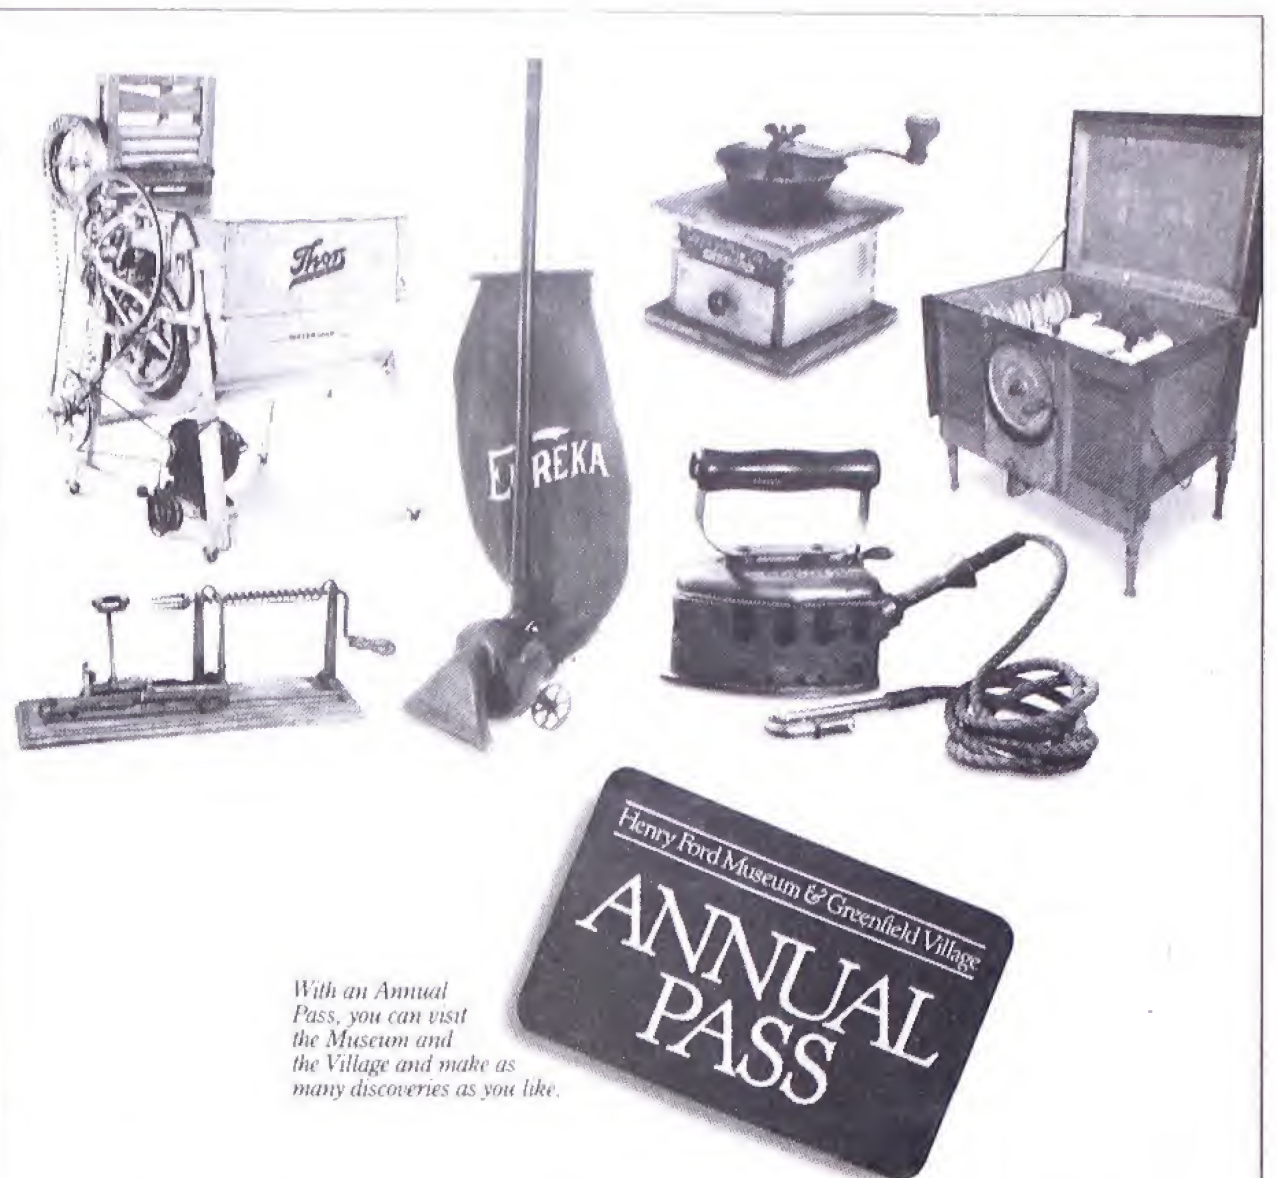

"The resident was not only pleased that his neighbor had observed a suspicious activity and reported it, but also pleased that our officers responded quickly," Davies said. "It was a simple matter for the homeowner to identify himself, and the matter was settled in a few minutes. However, if it had been an attempted theft, the neighbor's call would have saved the property and resulted in the arrest of a suspect - and, perhaps prevented future thefts in the neighborhood."

In areas where there is not a formal watch program, the police chief recommended that neighbors "pay attention to what is happening next door, exchange information with neighbors and arrange to watch each other's property during vacations."

Some things that citizens can do to deter crime are to discourage burglars with substantial door and window locks and good exterior lighting; give homes a "lived-in look" while vacationing by having timed lighting and leaving a radio playing on low volume, and to mark property with an engraver - Operation Identification.

As the summer travel season approaches, Davies said, those leaving on vacation can notify their local police department so that random checks can be made on the homes. The police chief also cautioned vacationers not to leave tell-tale notes or messages on their answering tapes that reveal that they are out of town.

Rattlesnake can't top this treat

OK, I admit it. Despite all my criticism and sarcasm, I did it and the fact that I was a prisoner of Coleman Young's staff doesn't let me off the hook. I admit it.

It was me who said she'd never heard a more unappetizing name for a restaurant than The Rattlesnake Club and wouldn't go there for fear of snakebite...it was me who said that a name like that was designed by a warped mind and I admit it, I'm the one who suggested that the place had live serpents on the premises.

But Friday, attending the media day in downtown Detroit hosted by Big Daddy Coleman Young, the members of the fourth estate were herded into Jimmy Schmidt's latest restaurant and served up a choice of pickerel or rib eye steaks, done just the way Jimmy felt like cooking them. Choice was not exactly the word of the day, but then, if I had to serve food and drinks to 50 journalists, I wouldn't be particularly hospitable either. The Rattlesnake Club may have been descriptive of the host's attitude about the press in light of recent media attention the mayor has received.

At any rate, the desserts were the highlight of the luncheon. When it comes to chocolate, Jimmy Schmidt is a master. His white chocolate ravioli was a surprise to several of the guests, however, many of whom thought they were being served a second main course and looked for the tomato sauce.

If you like brownies, you'll love this. Jimmy served it with a tiny scoop of ice cream (which I swear had Clorox in it) and a wonderful chocolate sauce.

Flourless chocolate cake

10 ounces unsweetened chocolate, cut into pieces
1 cup unsalted butter
11 extra-large egg yolks, at room temperature
1 1/3 cups granulated sugar
1 tablespoon Grand Marnier
8 extra-large egg whites, at room temperature

Preheat the oven to 325 degrees. Butter a 9-inch springform pan and dust the pan with sugar. Set aside.

In the top of a double boiler, melt the chocolate and butter and let cool. In a large bowl, beat the egg yolks until they are thick and lemon colored. Add 1 cup sugar, a little at a time, beating until the mixture makes a ribbon when the beaters are held up. Beat in the Grand Marnier.

In a large bowl, beat the egg whites until they hold soft peaks. Add the remaining sugar, a little at a time, and beat until stiff. Blend one-fourth of the yolk mixture into the chocolate mixture. Fold in the remaining yolks. Blend in half the meringue mixture. Fold in the remaining meringue.

Spoon two-thirds of the chocolate mixture into the prepared pan. Reserve the remaining mixture, covered at room temperature. Bake the cake for 40 to 50 minutes, or until it tests done. Remove from the oven and run a knife around the inside of the pan to loosen the cake. Cool for 30 minutes.

Remove the sides of the pan and continue cooling. Place the cake on a serving platter and frost with the reserved chocolate mixture. Refrigerate for 4 hours or overnight.

QUICK & EASY

Life in fast lane doesn't stop at stove

By FLORENCE MEEKS
ANP Staff Writer

While necessity may be the mother of invention, a full schedule has fathered many a shortcut in the kitchen.

Many cooks today simply do not have the preparation time many of their trusted recipes call for, and the only way many have found to have those delicious dishes in time for dinner is to alter old-time favorite recipes.

Penny Weese of Westland has learned to do just that. She refers to her style of cooking as quick and easy. When she taught herself to cook years ago, she loved to try elaborate, time-consuming recipes. Weese still has four bookshelves crammed with cookbooks.

"Who wants to cook like that today?" she laughed.

Now, Weese must cope with four toddlers in the house and has adapted her recipes as a matter of survival.

"If it's not easy, I don't do it anymore," she said.

Weese has four children ranging from ages 3 to 24. Along with caring for her youngest son, she baby-sits for two young grandchildren and an additional child.

Many of the recipes she uses today come from her travels with an Evangelistic Ministry.

"We collected recipes as we went along," Weese said.

Her recipe for chicken pot pie, a favorite with her husband, comes from a Georgia resident. A recipe for chili burros comes from Louisiana.

The other portion of her quick and easy recipes comes through trial and error. For instance, she said, her family loves lasagna, but preparing it can take too much time.

"I finally discovered everybody loves all kinds of noodles," she said.

Now, she simply layers egg or macaroni noodles with ground beef, cheese and spaghetti sauce. The simplified version was a hit with her family, Weese said.

Another tip to save time with recipes is to plan in advance and prepare part of the food ahead of time. For instance, Weese usually cooks the meat for her chili burros the night before she serves them.

Weese explained that the recipes she provided are quite adaptable. In the chicken and cheese dish, she suggested, the crust can be omitted, and the mixture can be poured over biscuits.

"You can kind of intermix," she explained.

The recipes below all have short lists of ingredients as well as short preparation times.

Chicken and cheese supreme

1 pound boneless chicken breast
1 can cream of chicken soup

6 slices swiss cheese
2 1/2 cups croutons
1 teaspoon oleo

Saute croutons in oleo, set aside. Place chicken in 8 by 8-inch pan. Pour on soup. Place slices of cheese on mixture. Top with croutons. Bake in 350 degree oven 1 hour. Makes 4 servings.

Chicken pot pie

2 Pillsbury fold-out pie crusts
1 can Veg-all
2 cans mixed chicken or 2 cooked chickens
1 can cream of chicken soup

Place one crust in nine-inch pie pan and bake five minutes. Mix together veg-all, chicken (cut in bite-size pieces) and soup. Pour into pie crust. Top with second pie crust. Crimp edges and slit top to vent. Bake in 350 degree oven 45 minutes. Chicken can be cooked one night in advance. Makes 4 servings.

Easy shrimp creole

1 cup quick-cooking rice
1 1/2 pound medium shrimp, cooked and peeled
1 15-ounce jar meatless spaghetti sauce
1/2 teaspoon sugar
1/4 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
Several dashes hot pepper sauce
1 large chopped onion
1/2 pound sliced or 2 cans mushrooms

Cook rice according to directions and set aside. Heat spaghetti sauce in large sauce pan. Add remaining ingredients except rice. Mix well and heat thoroughly. Pour hot mixture over bed of rice. Shrimp can be prepared in advance. Makes 4 servings.

Green chili burros

8 to 10 flour tortillas
1 small roast (beef)
3 cans green chili peppers
1 large onion, sliced
1 to 2 cups shredded lettuce
1 to 2 cups shredded Monterey Jack cheese
1 large can refried beans
1 bag corn chips

Cook roast covered with water with sliced onion until meat is tender. Meat can be cooked in oven or in a crock pot. When meat is cooled, shred and return to juices. Add three cans chili peppers and salt and pepper to taste. (Meat can be prepared up to this stage in advance and frozen until ready for use). Heat mixture until boiling. Add 2 or 3 tablespoons flour mixed with water. Cook until mixture thickens. Serve in tortillas with cheese, lettuce and tomato. Roll up

One of Weese's shortcuts is to plan in advance and prepare part of the food ahead of time. This even include making the fresh strawberry pie in advance.

Fresh strawberry pie

1 8- or 9-inch baked pie crust (plain or graham cracker)
1 to 1 1/2 quart strawberries
1 small package strawberry jello
2 tablespoon cornstarch
2 cups cool water
Place washed and hulled strawberries in crust (halved or whole). Set aside. In small pan place jello and cornstarch. Add cool water and stir over low heat. Simmer mixture until clear and slightly thick. Cool 15 minutes. Add 2 or 3 tablespoons of sugar or sweetener. Stir. Pour over berries. Top with whipped topping.

like burritos. Serve with hot refried beans with some melted cheese on top.

Belleville clinches half of league baseball title

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

With back-to-back victories last week over defending co-champs Southgate Anderson and Wayne Memorial, Belleville clinched a share of the 1989 Wolverine 'A' Conference baseball championship.

The two imperative victories boosted the Tigers' conference record to 11-1 on the season with two league games remaining on their schedule. Since Trenton, their closest challenger, has three losses, the Tigers would have to lose their final games for the Trojans to salvage a half of the crown.

Belleville was scheduled to play Wyandotte on Tuesday and will travel to Lincoln Park today for its final conference games. On Friday, Coach John Bertz's club will clash with Howell in a pre-district playoff game.

The outcome of the Belleville-Howell encounter will determine which team will advance to the Class A district tournament. Howell eliminated high-regarded Ann Arbor Pioneer in its qualifying test.

Elated over his team's title-winning performance in the conference, Bertz said that "it's not all over yet."

"We would like to win it all," Bertz said referring to the conference championship, "but I don't think Wyandotte or Lincoln Park is going to lie down and play dead for us. There's still a lot of work ahead for us."

"And the pressure will be on us because, after all, we are the league-leader."

Belleville has not worn a Wolverine 'A' baseball crown since the league's inception eight

I am elated that we have won a share of the title, but this season isn't over yet. We still have two tough league opponents and the playoffs ahead of us. And, believe me, we can't afford a letdown now.

— John Bertz
Belleville baseball coach

years ago. Their 17-4 overall record is the best a Tiger team has compiled in this decade.

Bertz sent four-game winner Jeremy Ison to the mound against Southgate, once considered the team to beat in the league. Ison humbled the Cougars on a one-hitter, striking out seven and walking two. He also hit one batter en route to a 10-1 victory.

The Tigers gave their junior ace all the runs he needed to post his fifth win in the first inning as Dave Fain drilled a three-run home run off of losing pitcher Ron Patterson. Patterson lasted until the third inning before he was yanked for a reliever.

In that decisive first inning, Patterson walked Tiger leadoff man, Kelly O'Neal, then gave up a single to Scott Janack. After one was out, Jerry Bitner singled, driving in one run. Phil Feist's single produced the second run, bringing Fain to the plate.

With two aboard, Fain drilled a Patterson curve to left center field for the 3-run HR.

Belleville added a single run in the second inning and sealed its 10th win with a 4-run third. Ison lost his shutout bid in the fifth when Anderson put its only run on the scoreboard.

On Friday, Belleville rallied for eight runs in the top of the third to pull out a 14-7 victory over Coach Jim Chronowski's Zebras. Mike Coleman got credit for the victory, in relief of starter Phil Feist, who worked the first 2 2/3 innings.

After Belleville scored twice in the opening inning and once in the second, the Zebras countered with four runs in their second to take a 4-3 lead. However, the Tigers pounded loser Todd Tamm for eight runs to go ahead for good.

Bill Byrd had a perfect four-for-four day.

Howell defeated Belleville earlier this season in the Ann Arbor Invitational. The 6-0 Howell victory over Pioneer sent a message to the Tigers that they will have their hands full when the two meet again.

"There is always more pressure on teams involved in play off situations," Bertz said. "Obviously when you realize that if you lose, the season is over, the pressure level goes up a couple of notches."

Bertz said he didn't know who he would pitch in the opening round of the playoffs.

Wheatley, Gee win regional honors

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Tyrone Wheatley will get an opportunity to prove he is one of the best high school athletes in the state of Michigan.

Wheatley, a sophomore at Robichaud High in the Westwood School District, qualified for the June 6 state finals by winning two gold medals at the Class B regional track & field championships staged last week at Dearborn High School.

Wheatley placed first in the 100-meter dash and the long jump competition.

American tour

With four foreign exchange students in their lineup, Belleville High tennis team has the look of an international team. Coach Dave McCartney's Tigers have managed to survive this year in the tough Wolverine 'A' Conference thanks to the contributions made by Raul De Saja of Spain, standing to the left of Coach McCartney, and Nicolas Braguier of France, Jesper Jorck of Denmark, and Andy Hansen, also of Denmark. Hansen was not available at the time of the photo. All the students are seniors and will be returning to Europe after the current school year, leaving McCartney with a huge void to fill next year. If the Tigers need a scout to recruit in Europe this summer, there are ample volunteers at the local newspaper. Photo by Werner Slocum/ANP photographer

Tigers travel to Trenton High

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

If Belleville softballers have a Class A district crown in their plans for 1989, they'll have to come at the expense of Wolverine 'A' Conference rival, Trenton.

Coach Peggy Curtis and her Tigers of Belleville clash with Trenton on Friday in a pre-district tournament game that will determine which team will advance to the district playoffs next week.

Belleville has beaten Trenton twice during the regular season, but that is no insurance the Trojans will be easy prey the third time around. In fact, because Trenton knows Belleville's talents, the third encounter between the two teams could be "really tough", according to the Tiger skipper.

"They are an excellent team," Curtis said as she prepares her club for the final stretch of conference competition. "We will have to be at our best to get past them." Curtis reiterated the well-known fact, "that one loss in the playoffs would end the tournament season for us."

The Tigers will wrap up the league phase of the season tonight at home to Lincoln Park. They were scheduled to play at Wyandotte on

Ousted Inkster is easy Dearborn prey

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Dearborn High spoiled Inkster Coach John Carlson's debut in playoff competition last week as the Pioneers eliminated Carlson's Vikings in the pre-district, 11-2.

Scoring 11 times in the first inning, Dearborn found the Vikings and pitcher Jean Braswell easy preys in their first post-season game that was abbreviated to five innings because of the "mercy rule."

"Dearborn is an excellent hitting team," said Carlson, who is bringing the curtains down on his first season as head coach of the Vikings.

The Pioneers cashed in on Braswell's wildness to turn the game into a rout. Braswell, who only gave up four hits, issued 19 free passes.

Last week, Inkster was the recipient of a Suburban Athletic Conference victory when Highland Park forfeited to them. The victory gave the winners a 4-10 SAC and a 4-12 overall record.

Carlson didn't know why the Parkers were "no shows" for their scheduled game.

However, the Vikings dropped both ends of a doubleheader to Willow Run earlier last week. The Flyers surfaced with a 11-6 victory in the opener, then rallied for a 11-2 sweep in the nightcap.

Braswell again was tagged with the loss in the opener. She notched five strikeouts, walked 12 and gave up only four hits. The Vikings out-hit their rivals as Tequan Abney drove in four of the team's six runs. She finished with three hits, a pair of doubles and a single, for the game. Teammate Salena Braswell, Jean's sister, checked in with two hits.

Braswell twirled a one-hitter, however, she gave up 13 walks and was charged with the loss in the second game. She had 11 strikeouts.

Jean Braswell again looked good at the plate as she sliced a double and single in four trips. Abney also had a pair of hits, including a double, while Alexis Watson chipped in with a run-scoring base hit.

Carlson said that he was proud of his team. "These girls not only excel on the softball diamond, but they also excel in the classroom," he said. "And I know that if we continue to practice hard and stick together, we're going to be a team to contend with."

Chandler, Edwards qualify for state

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Although they didn't find any gold Saturday at the Class A regional track & field championships, Belleville had its share of qualifiers and will send two relay teams and two outstanding sprinters to the state finals.

The sprinters - seniors Virgil Chandler and Andre Edwards - also were instrumental in the Tigers' second place finishes in the speed relay events.

"I felt we fared pretty well at the regionals," said Belleville Coach Dave Medley who pointed out that many members of his team who didn't qualify for the state posted their best personal times for the year. "We were at one of the toughest regionals in the state - and I am pleased with the way we competed."

Chandler, the defending 100 and 200-meter champ in the Wolverine 'A' Conference, finished fifth in the 100-meter dash with a 10.7. His time met the state's qualifying time for the event. (The top two, along with those who meet qualifying state times, advance from the regionals to the state finals). Chandler also finished fourth in the 200 in 22.3, and qualified for state in that event.

Although they posted identical times, Edwards nosed out Chandler for fourth place in the 100 (10.7).

The Tigers finished second to arch-rival, Ypsilanti, in the 400-meter relay as Brian Hargrow and Mark Hooks teamed up with Chandler and Edwards to finish in 43.1. Ypsi came away with the gold medal thanks to a 43.1.

The Braves also beat the Belleville 800-meter team to the wire with a 1:28.6 finish. The Tiger lineup of Andre Brantley,

Vikings looking for grid coach

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Inkster High is in the market for a new head football coach, according to George Thompson Jr., athletic director.

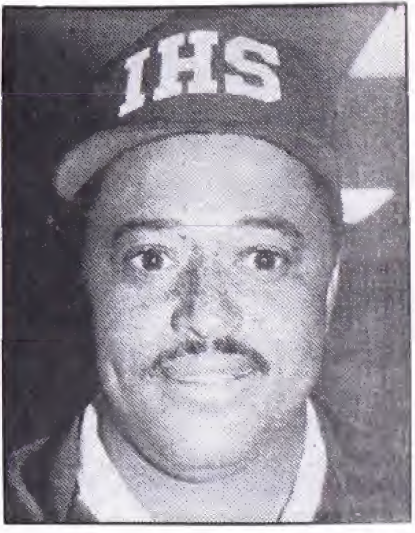

Alonzo Glaze, who served as the Vikings' head coach, announced recently that he will not be returning to the team for the 1989 season. He stated that family and personal obligations went into his decision to step down.

The Vikings last year posted a 1-8 overall record. They finished fifth in a field of six in the Suburban Athletic Conference.

"We're looking for someone who is interested in building a program from scratch," said Thompson. "We have some excellent talent here, and those wishing to apply for the position should contact me as soon as possible."

Thompson may be reached during regular school hours at 722-6113.

Inkster is affiliated in a league that includes natural rival, Dearborn Heights Robichaud, Highland Park, River Rouge, Willow Run, Oak Park, and Ecorse. With the exception of Highland Park, a Class A school, the rest of the SAC is dominated by Class B schools.

Robichaud has dominated the SAC football scene during the 1980's.

Tearza Johnson, making her inaugural appearance at a Class A regional track & field meet on Saturday, managed to survive the test.

The 14-year-old Romulus High freshman, qualified for the Class A state finals by placing third and fourth, respectively, in the 100 and 200-meter dashes in the regional competition staged in Ann Arbor.

Johnson finished third in the 200 with a 25.9, and also posted a 12.4 in the 100. Though the first and second-place finishers only qualify for state, Johnson advanced because her times met state qualifying times for the events.

Lost weekend Huron bats come alive, defense collapses

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

New Boston Huron's bats came alive last week as Mike Emery drilled his and the team's first grand slam homer of the season. Unfortunately for Coach Bill Spiecker's Chiefs, the defense and the pitching didn't stand up to Woodhaven or Riverview as Huron dropped two games that helped plummet their conference record to 1-12. They're 3-16 on the year.

Woodhaven rallied for four runs in the seventh inning to tie the game at 7-all, then scored two more in the top of the 10th to win a 9-7 decision over the Chiefs and reliever Mike Debozy.

Riverview won a convincing 13-5 decision from Spiecker's Chiefs.

"We hit the ball well in both games," Spiecker said. "I felt we should have won the Woodhaven game."

Emery's grand slam opened the gates to a seven-run fifth inning that lifted the Chiefs to a 7-1 lead. That inning started with Ron Nowitzke leading off with a single. He moved to second when Dave Delano also singled. Matt Spiecker kept the rally alive with a base hit, with Nowitzke playing it safe and hugging third. Matt Hamilton and Mike Dobozy then connected for run-scoring singles and, when Joe McLeod drew a base on balls, that set the stage for Emery who sent pitcher Joe Goff's fast ball into left center for the roundtripper.

However, Woodhaven came back and scored two in the sixth and added four more in the seventh to tie the game. In their 10th, Woodhaven put together a walk and a pair of hits after two were out to score the winning runs.

"We hit the ball well in both games. I felt we should have won the Woodhaven game."

- Bill Spiecker
Huron baseball coach

Debozy, who took over from Nowitzke in the fifth, was charged with the loss. Woodhaven tagged the two Huron hurler for 14 hits.

Debozy however collected three hits, Nowitzke and Delano checked in with two apiece.

Riverview rallied for five runs in the second inning to erase a 3-1 Huron advantage and went on to win a 13-5 victory over their conference rivals.

Delano got the call to start and worked the first five innings before Spiecker decided to lift him for Matt Hamilton who finished up. The Pirates rattled Huron pitchers for 18 hits while the Chiefs countered with 10.

Debozy, McLeod and Ron Marmion each collected two safeties.

Spiecker had to put a lineup together that was torn apart by a measles scare earlier in the week. School officials were forced to send 200 students home after five cases of measles were reported.

"Like Garden City, we were hit by measles last week and we're taking it one day at a time," Spiecker said. "I had to call up some of the kids from the junior varsity to play last week."

Vikings wrap up baseball season

First-year baseball Coach Jerome Orr and the Inkster Vikings will bring the curtains down today on the league phase of the 1989 baseball season with a twin bill involving Oak Park.

Orr, who had more than his share of headaches trying to field a winner this season, finds his Vikings seated in the cellar of the Suburban Athletic Conference after losing four conference games last week.

"It's been tough, no denying that," said Orr, which was probably the understatement of the season. "But I am not discouraged with these kids. We had to start from somewhere, and now we know just how much work we have ahead of us.

"I know we'll turn this thing around within a year or two," Orr vowed.

Willow Run blanked the Vikings last week 13-0 to begin Inkster's lost week. Inkster then dropped a 14-9 decision to Ecorse and were shut out twice by their natural rival, Robichaud, 10-0 and 8-0.

Maurice Bell, who worked the first three innings against the Flyers of Willow Run, was charged with the loss.

chance of winning the title," Medley said.

The Tigers destroyed Lincoln Park last week 106-20 for their fifth dual meet victory in seven starts Belleville's girls' team also turned back the Railsplitters, 83.5 - 41.5, for their fourth win in seven league starts. Coach Laura Druker's team swept 13 of a possible 15 first places.

The Tigers dominated the field events as Latonya McGuire captured the shot put with a toss of 26 feet, 9 1/2 inches; Andrea Phillips won the discus (91 feet, 6) and Holly Medley was the top performer in the high jump.

Belleville freshman Lawanda Smith covered the 100-yard dash in the winning time of 11.8, and teammate Tinhea Rice finished first for the 220 in 27.85. The Tigers also had a winner in Kim Green who crossed the finish line for the 440 in 1:05.5.

Karla Blackwell chipped in the mile and two-mile runs with 6:06 and 14:32 performances.

Belleville's 2-mile relay team of Dawn Durham, Stumpf, Laura Alberts and Green took the event in 11:17, while their mile relay lineup was first with Green, Lanni Bates, Stumpf, and Vetrie Chandler.

meet. We're especially proud because the kids were competing against some of the finest teams in the state."

Although they were not qualifying times, Romulus athletes also set three school records. Carmita Brown rewrote the record for the high hurdles as she covered the distance in 16.22 and finished fifth. Her 48.3 for the 300-meter low hurdles lifted her to third place and a new school record for the event.

Romulus's 800-meter team of Melanie Patterson, Brown, Angie Hollis and Johnson set an Eagle record of 1:47.9 en route to a third place finish at the regional.

Mike Gentry, Edwards and Chandler had the second best time for the event (1:28.9).

The state finals will be staged June 6 at Eastern Michigan University.

In the meantime, the Belleville girls' team received a third place effort out of sophomore Valentine Stumpf, who set a school record in the 800-meter. She was clocked in 2:25.9, but that time didn't qualify her for state.

On Tuesday, Belleville traveled to Wyandotte to compete in the 1989 Wolverine 'A' Conference championships. Wayne Memorial, the defending champ, is favored to win the league title.

"Wayne is undefeated and beat the pre-season title favorite Monroe earlier this season, so I feel they (Wayne) have the best

Ann Arbor Pioneer girls' team won the regional title. Romulus finished fifth, their best ever finish.

"We're really proud of our girls," said Romulus's Dan Henry who, with Ron Bayes, coaches the girls' team. "The team finished fifth, and this is our best finish at a regional track

THE PAP SMEAR—EARLY DETECTION
MEANS GREATER SUCCESS

By James A. Roberts, M.D.

One in every 100 women can expect to develop cervical cancer. But thanks to a simple procedure developed by Dr. George Papanicolaou, called the Pap Smear, problems can be detected even before they can be seen during an examination.

ROUTINE AND PAINLESS

A Pap Smear is part of a routine gynecological examination. It should be taken annually from the time a woman becomes sexually active, and continue throughout her lifetime.

For the test, the doctor takes a smear from the surface of the cervix and evaluates it under a microscope. At the laboratory, it is classified from one to five. One is normal; five indicates the presence of cancer. Classifications two, three, and four indicate a range of inflammatory or possible precancerous conditions.

AFTER DIAGNOSIS: TREATMENT

If the Pap Smear indicates the possibility of a precancerous condition, the doctor may order a colposcopy. This exam is similar to a regular gynecological exam, but the doctor uses a colposcope, which is like a magnifying glass, to allow him to look directly at the cervix. Depending on what is seen, the doctor may surgically remove a tiny portion of tissue, or, he or she may scrape the canal to make sure the problem isn't in the uterus.

Treatment for early detected, non-invasive cancers can frequently be performed right in the doctor's office. Depending on the specific condition, the doctor may destroy the abnormal cells by freezing or cauterizing.

Another method of treatment is laser surgery, which uses a beam of concentrated light to vaporize the abnormal cells.

The cure rate for non-invasive cervical cancer is very high. The earlier the condition is diagnosed and treated, the better the chances of cure.

A simple test, the Pap Smear, is the key to prevention and early treatment of cervical cancer.

Undefeated Robichaud zeros in on tennis title

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

With a string of eight consecutive victories on its record, Dearborn Heights Robichaud is within reach of the 1989 Suburban Athletic Conference tennis title.

Coach Jim Hadley and the Bulldogs have an untarnished 8-0 SAC record as the season heads into the stretch and they can wrap up the championship on Tuesday at Oak Park, the host for the 1989 SAC tournament.

"We're looking pretty good," said Hadley, after his Bulldogs amassed five points at the Class B regional staged at Dearborn High. Host Dearborn and Grosse Ile, which finished in a tie for first place, will advance to the state finals.

"I felt we played well at the regionals, and I hope it will carry over to the last week of league competition."

Tuesday. They carried a 11-2 league and a 20-6 overall record into the final regular week of competition.

Behind pitcher Brandi Price's four-hitter, Belleville buried Southgate Anderson 11-4 last week. They also disposed of Wayne Memorial 11-0 as Price again was right on target with a two-hitter. The Belleville hurler has a 14-4 record on the year, with two of those losses against undefeated Monroe, the undisputed WAC champ.

Belleville grabbed a 2-0 first inning lead against the Cougars of Southgate, however, they found themselves trailing 3-2 when the downriver power emerged with three runs in the bottom of the fourth. The Tigers managed to erase the deficit with a pair of runs in the fifth, and they put the game out of reach with a five-run explosion in the sixth.

Christy Garrett led the winners as she turned Robichaud picked up a point in the number one singles where Mike Pietras won his opening round against his counterpart from Monroe Jefferson, 6-0, 6-0. In the second singles, Fred Hayes destroyed River Rouge's Antonio English in a pair of 6-0 sets for another Bulldog point. In the quarterfinals, Hayes made Dearborn's John Racey sweat three sets before losing.

Hayes won the opening set 6-3, then lost 7-6 in the second set, forcing the issue to a third and final game which he dropped 6-4.

Robichaud's Billy Orsette defeated Allen Parker John Mouradian, 6-2, 6-0, for a point in the number four singles.

Allen Park's Cabrini's number one team was a "no show", so Tony Lario and Rob Stewart advanced to the quarterfinals where they met a Dearborn duo who ousted them 6-3, 6-1.

In the number two doubles, Jason Hillman and Chris Cummings came away with a first round victory 6-4.

in with a perfect five-for-five at the plate. She chased home four runs thanks to a triple, double and three singles. Teammate Kelly Rochon chipped in three hits - all singles - and also drove home two runs.

Price notched four strikeouts, walked none in her two-hit gem against the Zebras of Wayne. The Tigers jumped on loser Linda Swanson for four runs in the first inning as Kelly Rochon walked, moved up on a passed ball, then, with one away, Garrett was safe on an error, Lisa Bishop's single and an outfielder's error resulted in the first two runs. A single by Marcy Korgal, a double by Linda Pasek and Becki Preston's misplayed bunt accounted for the two other Tiger runs in that inning.

Belleville came back and scored two more in the second and added five more in the fourth in a game called after five because of the "mercy rule", (any time a team has a 10 or more run advantage, the umpire has the option to either call or proceed with the game).

Garrett again led the Tiger battery, hammering two over-the-fence homers. Pasek and Korgal also checked in with two hits.

Wheatley in the event with a 10.0.

Flounory had the second best 440 and 880-yard relay teams in the SAC this year. With Fred Matthews, Michael Hart, Julius and Dee, the Bulldogs earned a silver in the 440 for their 45.1 effort. In the 880, an event they covered in 1:32.5, the Bulldogs went with Matthews, Wheatley, Hart and Dee.

Flounory praised the "younger kids who helped out a lot this year, however, we didn't get the leadership I expected from the upper classmen."

The Bulldogs will return to the field on Tuesday to compete in the Dearborn Heights City Meet. The three-team affair involves Robichaud, Crestwood and Annapolis and will be staged at Annapolis.

Flounory believes that Crestwood, with its depth and strength in the middle distances, one and two mile events, poses a threat to the Bulldogs.

"It will be close," the Robichaud coach said, "and we're going to have to come up with a team effort to win it."

Perhaps Charlton Heston cut a more imposing figure during the chariot race in Ben-Hur.

But drivers like Danny Sullivan, Bobby Rahal and Al Unser, Jr., will make the competition just as exciting at this year's Valvoline Detroit Grand Prix. Because a $100,000 prize for the winner is a better incentive for a good race than a visit to the lions for the losers. And the chariots are a lot more interesting because they're powered by a few more horses.
